

Estimated Direct Cost Calculator

Some calculator features may be incomplete when using various web browsers. It is important to review calculations as you are completing the estimation form to ensure features are working properly.

This calculator is an estimate of your direct cost. Direct cost can include estimated tuition and fees, housing charges, meal plan charges and other registration fees. The cost of books and personal expenses are not included in this calculation.

I understand this is an estimate of direct cost and an estimate of financial aid awards. Costs and/or financial aid awards are subject to change prior to enrollment. It is my responsibility to verify and accurately input residency classification and understand the applicable rates. Austin Peay State University is not liable for estimates provided to students using the calculator.
