"My tutor was very helpful and understanding. He walked me through the process of solving the problem in a step-by-step format. He made sure I understood before moving on to the next step. I am so happy I decided to try out the new tutoring site. Thanks!" —Tutor.com Student

Extend instruction beyond the classroom. Lectures, discussion sections, labs, and office hours are all tried-and-true ways to educate students. But what if you had a small army of TAs at your disposal to engage students when you aren't available?

With over 3,000 online tutors available 24 hours a day, your students can get access to subject-matter experts the moment they need help. Our tutors will guide students to a thorough understanding of concepts through a collaborative one-to-one tutoring session. Whether the focus is on pre-requisites, reviewing course topics, or preparing for exams, Tutor.com is your around-the-clock teaching assistant.

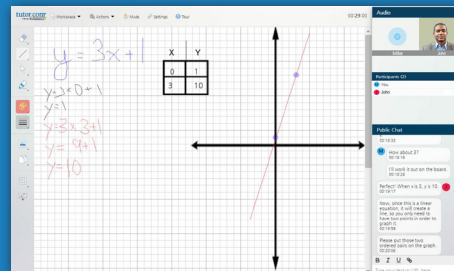

EXPERTS YOU CAN TRUST

Tutor.com tutors come from a wide variety of backgrounds, including educators like you, who demonstrate expertise in a subject area. To become a tutor, candidates must complete a rigorous application process which includes extensive qualification tests, mock sessions, and complete background checks.

Commitment to High Quality: As a partner to your institution, our tutors serve as an extension of the support services you provide on campus. Our commitment to your institution begins by recruiting high-quality tutors to represent you. Once hired, each tutor is assigned an in-house mentor to work with for continued growth. Tutors are incentivized through raises and advancement opportunities, and sessions are regularly reviewed for quality control.

Effective, On-Demand Tutoring: Our tutors work with students to follow the methodology you are using in class. Through a series of interrogative prompts, tutors guide students to a sound academic understanding of the subject matter at hand. Answers are not simply given to students, and tutors will assist for as long it takes for a student to demonstrate comprehension. With Tutor.com, you can rest assured knowing your students are getting the help they need from a qualified tutor, 24/7.
