

William Rayburn, DBA

Relevant Academic Credentials

- DBA, Southern Illinois University – Carbondale (Strategic Management and Management Information Systems)
- MBA, Vanderbilt University
- BE, Vanderbilt University

Relevant Professional Titles

- Professor and Chair, Department of Leadership (current)
- Coordinator, Leadership Science Program (previous)
- Director, School of Business (previous)
- President, Austin Peay Faculty Senate (previous)

Undergraduate Leadership Classes Developed and/or Taught

- LDSP 2100 Foundations of Leadership
- LDSP 3000 Leadership Development
- LDSP 3030 Organizational Team Building
- LDSP 3100 Organizational Dynamics, Politics, and Change
- LDSP 3110 Innovation and Creativity
- LDSP 3130 Judgment and Decision Making
- LDSP 3150 Leadership and Power
- LDSP 3600 Organizational Marketing
- LDSP 3900 Advances in Leadership Science
- LDSP 4400 Strategic Planning

Relevant Scholarly and Creative Interests/Activities

- 2020 Journal: "Peeking under the Hood: A Reflective Case Study of a Unique MOOC Collaboration," with Nancy Gibson (primary author), William Rayburn (second author), Tracie Campbell, Parishweta Bhatt, Anna Loftus, and Loretia Duncan. Online Journal of Distance Learning Administration, Vol. 23, Issue 1.
- 2018 Massive Open Online Course (MOOC): "Discover the Leader in You: Six Questions to Ask Yourself" with Austin Peay Distance Education and Library colleagues. For Canvas Network.
- Scholarly and creative interests: Developing Leadership curriculum, pedagogy in online Leadership classes, strategy and technology as agents of change. Work-in-progress – "Symbolic Representation as a Teaching Tool in Leadership Classes,"

Selected Professional Memberships/Activities

Association of Leadership Educators