Submitting an Assignment and Reviewing Feedback

When it comes to submitting assignments, Turnitin can be a useful tool for students. It not only helps to detect instances of plagiarism but also provides a platform for students to improve their writing skills by receiving personalized feedback on their papers. It is imperative that students understand the process and the feedback provided.

Ensure Your Assignment is Turnitin-Ready

Before you submit your assignment, make sure that it can be processed by Turnitin. Your file should be less than 800 pages, less than 100MB, and have a minimum of 20 words. Turnitin has specifications when it comes to file types and sizes that can be processed by the tool. Additionally, you may receive a processing error if the wrong file type is submitted. Your instructor may go a step further and specify the exact file type of the assignment you should submit. A full list of these file types is available on the Turnitin website.

Submitting an Assignment to Turnitin

1. Go to your course in D2L.
2. On the navbar, click "Assignments."

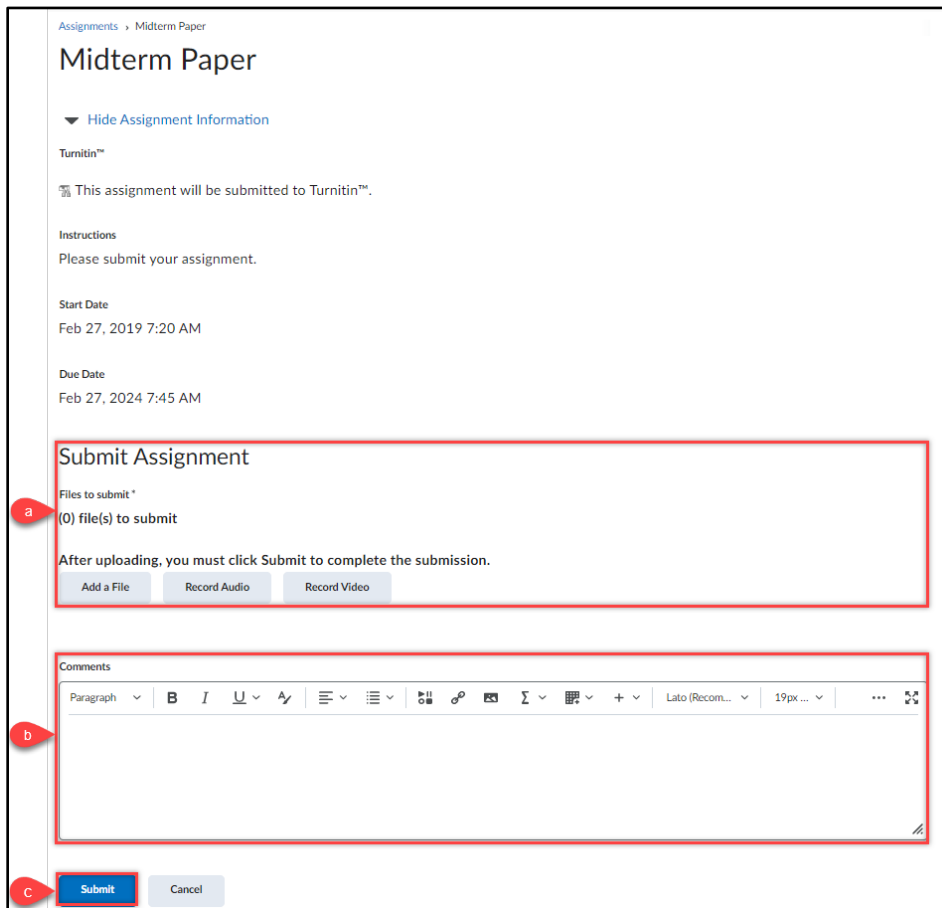

3. The Turnitin icon will be displayed beside any assignment that is Turnitin-enabled. Click on the name of the assignment for which you would like to make a submission.

- Select “Add a File” and follow the prompts to locate the file on your computer. Each time you upload a file your file count will increase. The number of files you can upload is determined by your instructor.
- Your instructor will inform you if you are required to include more information in the “Comments” textbox.
- Click the “Submit” button once you have uploaded your assignment from your computer.

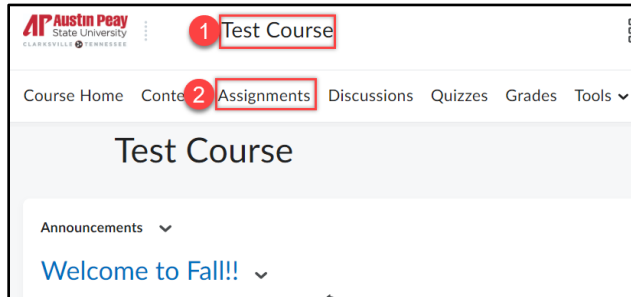

The screenshot shows the 'Midterm Paper' submission page. At the top, it says 'Assignments > Midterm Paper'. Below the title, there is a 'Hide Assignment Information' link. The Turnitin logo is present, with a note: 'This assignment will be submitted to Turnitin™'. Instructions state: 'Please submit your assignment.' The start date is 'Feb 27, 2019 7:20 AM' and the due date is 'Feb 27, 2024 7:45 AM'. The 'Submit Assignment' section is highlighted with a red box and labeled 'a'. It shows 'Files to submit *' as '(0) file(s) to submit' and a note: 'After uploading, you must click Submit to complete the submission.' Below this are three buttons: 'Add a File', 'Record Audio', and 'Record Video'. The 'Comments' section is highlighted with a red box and labeled 'b'. It features a rich text editor with various formatting options (bold, italic, underline, link, etc.) and a large text area. At the bottom, the 'Submit' button is highlighted with a red box and labeled 'c', next to a 'Cancel' button.

- After your assignment has been successfully submitted, you will be able to review your submission. Information related to your submission, such as the date and file size, will be displayed. Click “Done” to return to your list of assignments.

Accessing Your Turnitin Feedback

1. Go to your course in D2L.
2. On the navbar, click "Assignments".

3. Under the "Completion Status" column, you will be able to see how many files and submissions you have made. Click the hyperlinked text in that column to view your submission history.

The screenshot shows the 'Assignments' page. A table lists assignments with columns: Assignment, Completion Status, Score, Evaluation Status, and Due Date. The first row is 'Midterm Paper' with a completion status of '2 Submissions, 2 Files' (hyperlinked), a score of '- / 100', feedback status of 'Read', and a due date of 'Feb 27, 2024 7:45 AM'. A red arrow points to the '2 Submissions, 2 Files' link.

Grading Layer Feedback

If the Grading layer is available to you, click the checkbox to see all the feedback provided by your instructor. Examples of Grading feedback include QuickMarks, comment bubbles, strikethroughs, and in-line text within the body of the paper. Additionally, your instructor may or may not use additional tools such as providing an overall score (displayed at the top-right of the Feedback Studio), using a rubric (accessed by selecting “View Rubric” in the right menu area), and providing text or audio comments (displayed in the right menu area).

The screenshot shows the Feedback Studio interface. At the top, it says "Test Student_27 | Hazards_of_Moving_House.pdf". In the top right corner, a score of "3 /10" is displayed. On the right side, there is a panel titled "Instructor Feedback" with a "View Rubric" button. Below this, there is a "Text Comment" section with the text "Very good attempt". On the left side, the student's paper is visible, titled "Hazards of Moving House". The paper contains several comments: "Great insight!" in blue, "Poor grammar" in red, and "Add transition" in blue. The paper text begins with "Numerous people say that they wish to be able to peer into the future, to see how the days ahead will unfold. If I were pr...ed the gift, nevertheless, I would refuse it point-blank. Knowing beforehand about the experience I would need to go through...into my ap...or example, would have kept me in my moms and dads' house forever. My little child and I are settled in rather happily now, however the procedure of moving then was undoubtedly painful. I confronted issues with the property manager, with the condition of the apartment or condo, and with the day of moving itself. First of all, I needed to deal with the obstacles the landlord positioned in my course. Something he demanded was big amount of cash paid ahead of time. The proprietor intentionally increased the sum of cash and forced me to pay it immediately in a few weeks. The idea of paying these atrociously high rental costs was horrible for a mom who had a low salary like me. I also argued with the proprietor over repair work I felt he should make before I moved in. The condition in this house was a... The nice..."

Similarity Layer Feedback

If the Similarity layer is available to you, click the “Similarity” checkbox to view the portions of your paper that match outside sources. The sentences and phrases that are highlighted in the paper match existing sources. The similarity score, which can range from 0 to 100, 0 indicates that there are no text matches. A score of 93 means that 93% of your paper has matched sources in the Turnitin database, such as websites, other student’s papers, and journal articles. This number is based on the total work of the paper.

The screenshot shows the Similarity Layer Feedback interface. On the right side, there is a panel titled "Match Overview" with a close button. It displays a similarity score of "93%". Below the score, there is a list of matched sources:

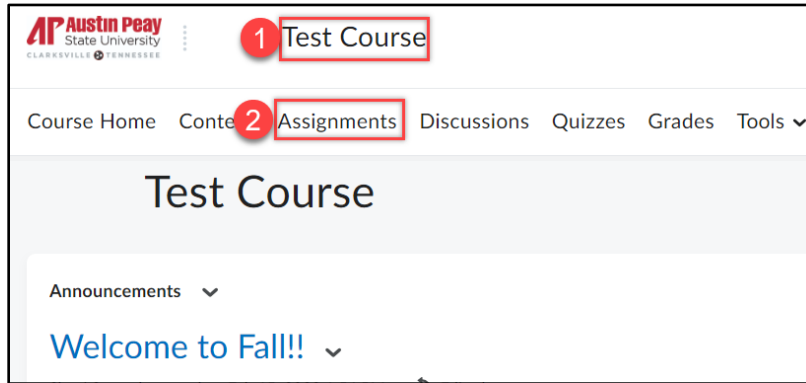

Rank	Source	Match Percentage	Action
1	studymoose.com Internet Source	70%	>
2	www.studymode.com Internet Source	23%	>

On the left side, the student's paper is visible, titled "Hazards of Moving House". The title is highlighted in pink. A red arrow points to the "93" similarity score in the right panel.
