

Student Academic Misconduct

POLICIES

Issued: March 25, 2017

Responsible Official: Vice President for Student Affairs

Responsible Office: Dean of Students

Policy Statement

APSU strives to promote values and attitudes that are reflective of solid academic character and integrity. For this reason, APSU expects each student to complete assignments that demonstrate original work and are reflective of that individual student. Academic integrity is an essential component of a quality education. When students participate in behavior that is considered academic misconduct, the scholarly value of their education is diminished.

Purpose

All members of a University community have responsibility for ensuring academic integrity. While faculty members have the responsibility of designing assignments and exams that promote academic integrity, faculty also have the responsibility to report suspected violations of academic honesty.

Austin Peay State University institutional disciplinary policy permits faculty to lower a grade to any extent including a grade of F on a paper, an assignment, or for the course as a sanction for academic misconduct. While no one can force a faculty member to change a grade that he or she has assigned, this policy addresses situations and procedures to be followed by APSU faculty where a student has received a lower grade or other discipline as a sanction for academic misconduct. Faculty are not required to change the grade of students in academic misconduct cases; however, should a student appeal the faculty member's grade and the hearing source subsequently absolve the student of the allegations of academic misconduct, the faculty member will reassess the student's grade based upon the hearing source's finding.

1. Notice to the student in writing of the conduct violation
2. Notice to the student of the time, date, and place of the hearing allowing a reasonable time for preparation
3. The right of a student to present his or her case
4. The right of a student to be accompanied by an advisor
5. The right of a student to call witnesses and to confront witnesses against the student
6. The right to be advised of the method and time limitations for appeal.

Academic and Classroom
Misconduct

- (1) The instructor has the primary responsibility for control over classroom behavior and maintenance of academic integrity and can order the temporary removal or exclusion from the classroom of any student engaged in disruptive conduct or conduct violative of the general rules and regulations of the institution. Extended or permanent exclusion from the classroom or further disciplinary action can be effected only through appropriate procedures established in (or through) the Student Code of Conduct.
- (2) Academic dishonesty may be defined as any act of dishonesty in academic work. This includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism, the changing or falsifying of any academic documents or materials, cheating and giving or receiving of unauthorized aid in tests, examinations, or other assigned work. Students guilty of academic misconduct, either directly or indirectly through participation or assistance, are immediately responsible to the instructor of the class. Penalties for academic misconduct will vary with the seriousness of the offense and may include, but are not limited to, a grade of "F" on the work in question, a grade of "F" in the course, or other formal disciplinary sanctions including a warning, reprimand, probation, suspension, and expulsion.
- (3) A student accused of academic misconduct will be advised of the substance of the conduct violation and his/her right to a hearing. The student may accept the instructor's finding, grade reduction, and/or other sanction and waive his/her hearing right. If a student believes he/she has been erroneously accused of academic misconduct, he/she may request a hearing. Hearings will be conducted pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Student Code of Conduct. Should the hearing source absolve the student of academic misconduct, no penalty may be imposed.

- (4) The names of all students referred for academic misconduct will be maintained in a database in the Office of Student Affairs.
- (5) Classroom misconduct includes, but is not limited to, behavior that obstructs or disrupts the learning environment (e.g., repeated outbursts from a student which disrupts the flow of instruction or prevents concentration on the subject taught, failure to cooperate in maintaining classroom decorum, the presence of non-enrolled visitors in the classroom [see APSU Policy No. 2:039, Minors on Campus Policy], etc.), the continued use of any electronic or other noise or light emitting device which disturbs or interrupts the concentration of others (e.g., disturbing noises from beepers, text messaging, cell phones, laptop computers, games, etc.).
- (6) Class attendance and punctuality requirements are established by the faculty through the syllabus for each course. Students are expected to attend class regularly and on time and are responsible for giving explanations/rationale for absences and lateness directly to the faculty member for each course in which they are enrolled. In cases where student absences are the result of emergency circumstances (e.g., death in the family, a student's serious injury or incapacitating illness), for which student(s) are unable to make immediate contact with faculty, the student may contact the Office of Student Affairs for assistance in providing such immediate notification to faculty. However, the student remains responsible for verifying the emergency circumstances to faculty and for discussing arrangements with faculty for possible completion of coursework requirements, if feasible.

Procedure for Reporting Suspected Academic Misconduct

- (1) Faculty will meet with the student and discuss the conduct that is the basis for disciplinary action for academic misconduct.
- (2) After the discussion, if the faculty member intends to lower the grade on the assignment or the course based on his/her belief that the student has engaged in academic misconduct, the faculty member must provide written notification to the student (see addendum to this policy for an example of the memorandum form to be provided to the student). A student who requests a hearing has the responsibility for providing supporting evidence on his/her behalf. Failure by the student to elect a hearing option is a waiver of all hearing rights.

- (3) The faculty member must provide the student with a copy of the signed notification (see addendum to policy) as well as submit a copy to the department chair of the concerned department and to the Dean of Students. Additionally, if a hearing has been requested, faculty should provide any documentation that is related to the misconduct to the Dean of Students.
- (4) Courses may not be dropped pending the final resolution of an allegation of academic misconduct. The student will be allowed to attend and participate in all class activities until the misconduct issue has been officially resolved by the University. If final grades are due before the academic misconduct hearing is resolved, faculty members are strongly encouraged to assign a course grade of "I" (incomplete) for the student. As soon as the investigation has been completed, faculty members should convert the "I" grade that was previously assigned to the appropriate final grade for the course.
- (5) The Dean of Students, upon receipt of the request for a hearing, will notify the student to arrange a preliminary conference at which time the student will be advised of the options and Institutional Hearing Rights as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct. Failure of the student to sign and elect a hearing option (to enter a plea) is a waiver of all hearing rights.
- (6) If the student has been found guilty of academic misconduct, the faculty member's grade shall stand. If the student has been found not guilty of academic misconduct and has been exonerated from the charge, the faculty member must reassess the student's grade based on the quality of the work disregarding any elements of academic dishonesty as defined in this policy. If the quality of the student's work warrants a grade improvement and the faculty member still refuses to reassess the original grade of the student who has been exonerated of the charge of academic misconduct, then an administrative grade change shall be made. If the quality of the student's work does not warrant a grade change, the faculty member's original grade may stand.
