Reflective Essay

What is a Reflective Essay?

- A reflective essay examines what you learned from a specific text, event, or experience.
- Its purpose is to encourage critical thinking and self-awareness by exploring how the experience affected you and what you gained from it.
- Remember that reflective essays aim to deepen your understanding of a specific assignment or experience, so your thoughts, feelings, and insights are crucial.

What a Reflective Essay Is Not

- A simple summary of events
- A straightforward narrative of what happened
- An opinion about whether something was good or bad
  - Instead it focuses on insight and growth.

Before You Write

- Think carefully about your personal experience and its impact on you.

Ask Yourself

- What specific text, event, or experience am I reflecting on?
- How did I feel during the experience?
- What challenges or difficulties did I face?
- What did I learn?
- How has this experience influenced my future actions or decisions?
- What new insights have I gained about myself?

Style and Tone

- Use first person pronouns.
- Focus on personal experiences and insights rather than only stating facts.
